Election/Restrictions

Claims 9,13,14,16,19-28 and 34-36 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on January 8, 2009. Applicants arguments are not persuasive, as a new search is required for completeness in this application. Applicant has supplied many new relevant references after the restriction requirement from many areas which had not been previously searched. As such a burden was placed upon the office to search all areas where the different invention are classified in this application. The restriction is hereby made final.

This application contains claims drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in the reply filed on January 8, 2009. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the related applications incorporated by reference should be updated to reflect if they have been patented or abandoned. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,3,6-8 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Patterson et al. in view of Cable. Patterson et al. US 6,244,812 teaches an apparatus for supporting a cassette comprising:

an overhead transfer flange (36) mounted atop a substrate cassette; said flange adapted to mate with a wide variety of known transport systems such as a conventional overhead carrier;

said flange having 4 sides forming a planer surface. Patterson et al. do not teach any particular shape to the flange. Cable US 4,684,285 teaches a connection system comprising:

a flange (40) for being mounted onto a device via screws (43); said flange having first and second opposed sides (not numbered) wherein one is wider than the other;

third and fourth sides (41,42) which run between the first and second sides;

wherein said third and fourth sides form a blade edge that is oblique to a plane formed by the four sides;

a mating structure (31,32) for releasably connecting with said flange to allow a robot to pick up an element (A) and move it and release said element as desired;

wherein said blades may have a blunted edge or a radiused edge as a designer may wish;

wherein the third and fourth sides of the flange are adapted to mate with angled side on the element to be moved;

and said blades are not parallel to one another. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of invention to provide the device taught by Patterson et al. with a connection structure as taught by Cable in order to allow the cassette to be picked up even if it is out of alignment with the transport robot, and to further align it with the robot during pick up.

Response to Amendment

The amendments to the claims filed on September 2, 2008 have been entered into the record.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on February 23, 2009 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609.04(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon, but considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure are listed on the attached PTO-892. All of which relate to connection devices using a flange with a compound angle.
